Fighting Guard Stops Prison Outbreak

Plot for Liberation of Ten of Most Desperate Prisoners in Leavenworth Federal Prison Frustrated.

[By Evening Herald Leased Wire] Leavenworth, Kan., Oct. 18.—A plot for the delivery of ten of the most desperate prisoners in the federal penitentiary failed, it became known today when the federal guard, a guard, gave battle to Joe Lewis, a negro prisoner, armed with a knife. The attempt was made last night in the isolation ward where the most desperate men are confined.

With the saw Lewis severed the lock of his cell and escaped into the corridor where he leaped upon Brown from the rear. The negro demanded the keys to the other cells of the ward on the threat of cutting the guard's throat with the saw. Brown resisted and the struggle attracted other guards who succeeded in subduing Lewis.

PROSECUTOR PUTS NEW HAVEN CASE IN UGLY LIGHT

"These Conspirators," Says U. S. Attorney Batts, "Plotted to Throttle Commerce and Industry of New England."

[By Evening Herald Leased Wire] New York, Oct. 18.—The jurors chosen to try William Rockefeller, Lewis Cass Leary, Edward D. Robinson and eight other directors and former directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, charged with conspiracy to monopolize interstate commerce under the Sherman law, took their seats in the federal court today to hear the opening address of U. S. Attorney Batts.

In his opening statement, Mr. Batts said that the jury would be asked to consider the methods by which the alleged unlawful acts of the New Haven were done, as well as the acts themselves. He declared he wanted to make it clear that there was no suggestion intended by the government that the component parts of the New Haven should be returned to their original status, as the combination of the parts were not necessarily unlawful.

The government and the law did not depreciate and undertake to punish those natural growths and expansions which might be beneficial, he said, but the New Haven was a combination which could have brought together and given good service without bringing about a situation where "the people of this New England district are at the mercy of a powerful combination."

"The New Haven railroad," he continued, "which once owned only 325 miles of track, grew up in a few years into a monopoly, until it controlled 2,200 miles of line, and gained a position where every person engaged in business in New England, every enterprise, was under its power and control."

Today the president received a letter from the Maryland police department for national defense, asking him to take steps to insure the United States against attack from abroad. The letter was signed by Governor Goldsborough and others.

Among plans it was learned late today, include the expenditure of $150,000,000 during the next four years on coast defenses and the creation of a huge reserve of rifles, field guns, machine guns, howitzers and ammunition.

The war department will ask this year for $24,000,000 for the reserve supply program and $26,000,000 for coast defenses, which include new fortifications and the thorough modernization of present defenses.

More than $100,000,000 of the $72,000,000 increase over last year's appropriation bill will be devoted to these purposes, leaving $20,000,000 to be expended on the creation of the new army of more than a million trained men the plan is expected to produce within six years.

BELIEVED COSGRIFF, WEALTHY STOCKMAN, LEFT NO WILL

[By Evening Herald Leased Wire] Denver, Oct. 18.—Thomas A. Cosgriff, banker and stockman, who died last week, probably left no will, according to close friends today. Should he will be found the estate, valued from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000, will be divided under the Colorado statutes, half going to the widow, Cosgriff has holdings in Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and Mexico.

CONFERENCE ON ARIZONA STRIKE CONTINUES AT ELPASO THIS MORNING

Question of Reinstatement of Men Discharged Between Sept. 1st and Time Strike Was Called, First Up.

WAGE CONSIDERATION IS NEXT IN ORDER

Representatives of United Mine Workers Arrive in Arizona "to Lend Moral Encouragement to Federation."

[By Evening Herald Leased Wire] El Paso, Texas, Oct. 18.—The demand for reinstatement of all the striking Arizona copper miners and of all the men discharged by the mining companies between September 1 and the opening of the strike was the first item on which the mine managers and the strikers' delegates looked horns in their peace conference. The question was unsettled when adjournment was taken soon after noon.

While both sides declined to reveal what had taken place behind the locked doors of the conference room, it was understood that the mine owners objected to the reinstatement of some of the union organizers who were discharged shortly before the strike was called. The miners' delegates were invited to bring in amended demands on this point at the afternoon session. Whether a compromise could be effected or not remained to be determined.

The miners claim that the discharge of Western Federation organizers was a primary cause of the calling of the strike on September 11—that but for that action on the part of the operators the strike would not have been called at that time, if at all. The position of the managers on the other hand was that the discharged men were "agitators" who were stirring up trouble among the employees.

It was not expected that the wage demands of the employees would be reached today. These demands include a minimum of $2.50 for surface workers and a minimum of $2 for underground men. Both these figures are on a basis of copper selling at 13 or less. A sliding scale is provided when the price of the metal advances. Copper is now above 17c.

Denver, Oct. 18.—The presence of Van Houten and Frank Hughes, representatives of the United Mine Workers of America in Arizona, is in conformity with the policy of that organization to give moral and financial aid to the Western Federation of Miners in those of industrial controversies, according to William Diamond, representative of the international offices of the United Mine Workers of America. Bittner, who is president of the Pittsburgh district and Hughes, international organizer from Illinois, are working under the direction of Charles H. Moore, president of the Western Federation of Miners, according to Diamond.

Their arrival in Arizona recalls that shortly after the copper miners' strike in Michigan was called off in 1914, the question of consolidating the two organizations arose. At the Western Federation of Miners convention in Denver that year a committee was named to confer with representatives of the United Mine Workers of America in an effort to devise some feasible method of consolidation. That joint committee studied the situation and decided the time was not ripe for formal consolidation but that the organizations would continue an exchange of cards and cooperate in all matters of mutual interest, each maintaining a separate autonomy.

Corbin for the consequences of their maintenance of the status. The suit resulted, he asserted, in the New York and New England going into the hands of a receiver and the New Haven purchasing a controlling interest in the stock.

The heirs of Goldsmith, who brought suit for $25,000 against Corbin for damages "in the way of oppression and injury to name and business," which the attorney charged the New Haven settled.

"I do not believe that at the present time business men would do a thing of that kind," said Batts, "for times have changed, principally due to the Sherman act. I think, but at that time William Rockefeller did not hesitate to sign the bond of indemnity."
